DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claims 4-13 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c) as being in improper form because a multiple dependent claim cannot depend from any other multiple dependent claim. See MPEP § 608.01(n). Accordingly, the claims have not been further treated on the merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Cottle. Cottle discloses an intersomatic implant that is generally a rectangular cage that has lateral sides that have a convex profile in the sagittal plane (Fig. 6) and a face having a convex profile in the frontal plane (Fig. 7). The lateral faces of the implant adjacent to the perforations constitute radio-opaque markers (col. 3, lines 23-28).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cottle in view of Coates et al. Cottle discloses an intersomatic implant comprising ridges (col. 2, lines 49-51) however Cottle fails to disclose the ridges extending parallel to the frontal plane. Coates et al. teaches an intersomatic implant comprising ridges extending parallel to the frontal plane (Fig. 13) to resist migration of the implant (col. 6, lines 36-46). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to combine the teaching of ridges extending parallel to the frontal plane, as taught by Coates et al., to an intersomatic implant as per Cottle, in order to resist migration of the implant.
